EL RIO REY THE CHAMPION.

BY FAR THE BEST OF HIS YEAR.

HE MAKES HIS RIVALS LOOK LIKE SELLING.

Well. El Blo Rey has come and has conquered. fle is all that the most glowing facey painted him.

A colt of towering height, of marvelous muscular development, of majestic lines all over, and of a truly imperial, this is the true autocrat of the American turf. It is hard to write of him without dulging in fantastic extravagance of epithet, in the alldest superlatives of eulogy. He made the other two-year-olds in the Eclipse Stakes at Westchester festerday look like common cattle. The start was superb one-never was a better seen. It was Mr. Caldwell's flawless triumph. Livonta and Cayuga were prominent for a time, with El Rio Rey well up. the end of the first quarter mile the great California colt had the whole field beaten to a stand-Littlefield on Cayuga, Isaac Murphy on Torso, Hayward on Devotee and Garrison op Padishah tried to chare him, but simply made pitiful wrecks of their mounts in their efforts, so much so that not one of the four could get a place at the finish, and an outsider of little real value. Eberlee, took second place, and Eunquet got home third. But El Rio Rey cantered home with every other starter looking like worthless cockroach in comparison. Here's the acchorse of 1889! And it is doubtful if any horse ning on earth is his equal on a dry track. such a beating could be estimated in pounds, El Rio Rey must have been twenty-one pounds better than any other entry. What a pity no is not in the Puturity, and has no important stake engagements in East this year after the Eclipse! What a pity. too, that he is not in the Dwyer stable, or in other of the great Eastern stables, that would give Eastern race-goers frequent opportunities to see him

A big crowd of speciators saw the victory of El Ric Rey, and saw also other racing of unusual interest. Britannic was beaten easily in the first race by Catalpa, who has been winning fast races in the West. These two left the rest of the field far behind.

Oregon is only a sprinter, and although he was the favorite in the second race, and led handsomely for six furlongs, he was beaten off at the finish, and White Hat McCarty's colt Sorrento, won easily enough, Castaway II getting second place, with Miss Cody a very

After the Eclipse Stakes came the best and most exciting finish of the day in the New-York Jockey Club Handicap. Firenzi was the favorite, but Rowe had got Raceland at last into perfect condition, the on of Suburban Day, and Garrison showed all his skill in the saddle. McLaughlin was on Firenzi and rode her extremely well, although possibly made a little too much use of her in climbing the hill. It was a struggle of two past masters of riding when the two jockeys locked horns in the last furlong, Firenzi and Raceland came on head But in the final dozen strides, Raceland's overmastering length of stride prevailed, and Raceland won by a head, second, Hanover third. Hanover ran a race with 126 pounds up, but the handicappers should have put weight on him after Senor.ta defeated when he carried only 119 in the New-Rochelle was one of the puzzles of racing. the other starters in this handicap, not one of outside of these three, had the remotest glimpse of a chance. They might all have been kept in their stables just as well, and left the race to Race. Firenzi and Hanover. That seems to be the almost invariable rule in handicapping in this counin these days. Adjust the weights so as confine the finish to the high-class horses and let "root hog, or die," as the schoolboy phrase How many rich handicaps are won but the best and highest class of horses—the Racciands, the Firenzis, the Hanovers, the Kingstons, or animals like Terra Cotta, Los Angeles or Eurus?

Mr. Belmont was present and was very happy.
William K. Vanderbilt roamed all over the confinental spaces of the colossal course, and compared it with his own charming little pocket-edition of a race-track at Sheepshead Bay.

Elize ran away, and ran into the fence in one of nial, deliberate, patient suile of his, a smile of frow and a breaking heart. If the Senator does three-quarters of a length Knick half a length before Golden Horn. not make haste and discover another fat silver mine.

he may feel like descring the turf altogether. What NILES. can be the matter with his horses? Are they bewitched? Is the evil eye upon them?

Did ever a human being lose 65
many races as the estimable Senator has lost? We all have read of the frightful Djims and Afrites of the Arabian Nights, but race-goers are and Afriles of the Arabian Nights, but race-goers are not familiar with any Djinns more appalling than gin-Yet some wicked demon appears to have voven a ghastly spell that stops all the Senator's horses. He must start out and search for an Aladdin's lamp or a roc's egg, if he wants to win.

That crazy old selling-plater, Syntax, won the last race, greatly to the delight and elation of one of the heaviest plungers of the day, a member of a promi-nent and influential firm in the day-goods district, whose ill-fortune of late has been proverbial, but who hit the ring heavily on Amazon and Syntax. All his many friends on the turf gathered around him to wish him luck in the words of the old irish blessing. "May you live to eat the hen that scratches the grass over your grave."

"May you live to cat the hon that scratches the grass over your grave."

Garrison tode like Garrison in his best days. He was on two winners—Raceland and Amazon. Hamilton rode his inevitable daily winner, Catalpa, and was second with Tattler and third with Golden Horn. Raceland improved stupendously between Thesday and Saturday. On Thesday in the New-Rochelle Stakes he failed to get a place, coming home behind Senorifa, Hanover and Taragon. Yesterday he was a racelhouse "secundem axtem"—a fiyer, indeed. But we are all getting paintuily familiar with these startling variations of form in these degenerate days.

Mutual—Catalpa straight $27.00, place $11.15; Britannic place $0.20.

An excellent start was made, with the favorite in front.
Catalpa second, the others close up and all in motion.
Britannic ied down the hill, through the valley of the shadow of forest and over the gentle rise opposite the free field. Here Catalpa collared him, and after a lighting finish won cleverly by half a length; Britannic second, its lengths before Radhat. Ban clochs and Ring Crab could not run at all. The latter seemed seasies.

RESULTS OF YESTERDAY'S RACES AT SARATOGA.

LEO H. CANTERS HOME IN THE FIRST CONTEST

-OUTSIDERS TAKE THE POCAHONTAS

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE,]

Saratoga, Aug. 24.—The Saturday holiday crowd was at the track to day in great numbers, for the programme was highly interesting and the weather clear and warm. The features were the Pocahontas Stakes for three-year-old fillies and the Equity Stakes for two-year-olds, and they proved interesting matches, and in both the favorites suffered defeat. There was disappointment in the withdrawal of Ben Harrison and Belle D'Or from the first race. Their owners, however, had no hope of beating Lee H. in six fur longs, and the manner in which the great sprinter ran away from the field and then cantered home was very impressive. Leo II. was the only favorite that won, and the "talent" were remorselessly slaughtered. especially in the final selling race, which Kitty R won with 12 to 1 against her at the post, notwithstand-ing her forward running in previous races, and the members of the ring were enriched to the extent of many thousands of dollars, as the betting was strong. Mr. Hertmann had Freddy examined yesterday by Dr. T. S. Robertson and Dr. Cook, of No. 28 East Twentietr-st. They saw him do all that it is proposed for him to do on the stage and gave it as their apinton that he could take his whole part in the performance without danger to his health. Dr. Robertson, indeed, said that he thought the boy ought to be allowed to act, because it would break his heart if he was not. The boy will probably be examined by Health Commissioner Bryant to-day, or else tomorrow, before the Mayor makes his final decision.

SAVED HIS SISTER FROM DROWNING. A BRAVE BOY OF THIRTEEN RISKS HIS LIFE IN THE PASSAIC RIVER.

cident happened on the bank of the Passaid River last Wednesday which brought out the latent heroism of a lad. He is a sturdy boy, thirteen years of age, the son of Edmund Lyons, who, for many years has been connected with "The Sun." The boy had the day ebfore swam the breadth of the river. his little sister Norah having witnessed the act. Early the next morning, Norah, who is seven years old, took her younger sister, Fanny, age five, to see her accomplish the same act. The boy, Bertram was fishing off an unused pier two hundred yards below, when he heard the screams of his younger stream. He immediately plunged into the river, and when he reached the spot where his sister was float-ing, she had sunk for the third time. He dived and brought her up from the river's bed where the water was twelve feet deep, and managed to got her into shallow water, where they were hauled safe ashore. The unconscious girl was resuscitated, and the boy is no worse for his swim.

REUNION OF THE STONE FAMILY. The reunion of the Stone family, the descendants of Samuel Mansfield Stone, of Milford, Conn., at Seaside Park, Bridgeport, on Wednesday, brought together a larger number than at any previous gathring, there being nearly 150 present. Charles S. Smith, the historian of the family, traced the an-cestry back to the Rev. Samuel Stone, of Hertfordshire, England, whose two sons came to this country in 1639. The Rev. Dwight C. Stone, the orator o the day, traced the family back further than the historian, going back to the days of King Herod. This relationship was proved, he said, in the declar ation of Ghrist to Simon, "Thou art called Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church"; the Greek of the name Peter meaning rock, or stone. There were remarks by the Rev. Hiram Stone, Dr. Jay Stone, Lyman S. Stone, George C. Stone, and Frederick Stone.

GOLDWIN SMITH TO BRITISH-AMERICANS.

ADVISING THEM HOW TO CONDUCT THEM-SELVES AS CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Chicago, Aug. 24 (Special),-At this afternoon's picuic of the British-American societies a long letter from Professor Goldwin Smith to the president of the British-American Association was read. In it he will be what is best for your native as well as for your adopted country. He distinguished from other American citizens, if at all, only by the fearlessness, the independ-ELIZABETH.—The police were informed yester-day of the disappearance of Jeremiah Crowley, a veteran of the Rebellion and one of the charter mem-pects every man to do his duty, and your duty henceforth peets every man to do his duty, and your duty hemeforth Is to be good Americans. As men of British blood you are heirs of the great tradition of self-government. In that character you seem to be specially called upon in this hour of trial to uphold the cause of ordered freedom against the anarchic or anti-republican influence by which, as the result of a vast and heterogeneous immigration, it is assailed. In their organic principles as well as in their origin, the institutions of the Republic are English and by the descendance of Englishment they are likely to be best understood. ants of Englishmen they are likely to be best understood, administered and preserved.

Not the least disastrous among the consequences of the fatal schism which rent our race a century ago was the diversion of British emigration from American shores, of the Supreme Court and will be a test of the legality of the law repealing the salary grab. . . . Frederick Maetschke, age sixty, who had for half his life been in the employ of the Singer Company, died yesterday after a short liness. In his will be ordered his body to be cremated. . . . While gunning on the meadows, near Tremley, yesterday, William Dackerman discovered, lying in the mud, a box about ten methods square. Upon opening it, he found in the box gold coin of all nationalities. The money was much rusted and had evidently been hidden there for a long time.

PIAINFIELD.—Robert Clark, a well-to-do farmer, age seventy years, who was living with his family on the road leading from New-Providence to Balty Race Hill, about two miles north of Painfield, wash on the road leading from New-Providence to Balty Race Hill, about two miles north of Painfield, was found dead on Friday night, in an apple orchard near his house. He had tied a rope about his neck, thrown the other part over a limb of the tree, and then kicked away the chair upon which he had teen standing. He had been despondent for several weeks, and was probably insane.

D. C. FEELY SUES "THE NEW-YORK TIMES."
Rochester, Aug. 24 (Special).—D. C. Feely, the attorney of this city who has attained such a reputation in Home Rule affairs, this morning had a summon and complaint served on George Jones, treasurer of "The New-York Times," in a libel suit for $25,000. The complaint is based on an attack on Mr. Feely which was printed in "The Times" on October 20, 18:7, under these headlines: "A Spectman George Man. Engaged in Eating up a Widow's Estate. A Leaf from the Professional Record of the George Party's Candidate for Attorney-General."

Dover, Del., Aug. 24 (Special).—Last night's rain was a godsend to the peach-growers of lower Kent. The later varieties, notably the Smock, needed rain badly. It will cause the fruit to swell and otherwise develop. The finest fruit of the season will be on the market ----
